LANSON IS NOT INSANE

Condition Resulted From a Big Spree.

BECAME VERY VIOLENT

And Was Strapped to Bunk in the Prison.

Big Swede Remembers Nothing of His Hard Battle with the Officers Nerr Martel Thursday.

Saturday morning Magnus Lanson, the giant Swede who was taken into custody near Martel, Thursday afternoon, after battling for 15 minutes with Constable Lalphy and three deputies, partially regained his senses. He remembered nothing of what had happened and had difficulty in understanding the officers, when they attempted to explain where he was.

"How did I get here?" the Swede inquired, looking about him in a bewildered way. When told of how he had been found, Thursday afternoon, waiving deliriously back and forth in a stream near Martel, and of how he battled furiously with the officers, Lanson was unable to believe the story. He had no idea of how he got to Martel.

Saturday morning, Sheriff Drown and Deputy Johnston took Lanson from the city prison to the county jail, where the accommodations are better. It had been intended to take him to the jail Friday night, but about 6 o'clock he became so violent that he could not be moved. For more than an hour, the big fellow raved in his cell and tore practically every stitch of clothing from his body. Finally, fearing that he might dash his brains out against the bars of his cell, the officers strapped him to his bunk. He apparently slept well during the night and in the morning awoke seemingly sane.

Lanson told the officers that his present condition resulted from a prolonged spree. According to his story, he had been drunk six months. He remembered having got aboard a freight train at Chicago, intending to go to New York City. He became demented while on the train, but how he happened to get off at Martel, he can not remember. Lanson says he is a tinner.

The Swede will be held at the jail until Probate Judge Foster gets an answer from the letter he sent to the Chicago police force, asking for information regarding Lanson. The authorities are not inclined to share the belief of the Martel authorities that Lanson is a criminal, and it is thought the man will be given his liberty.

MARION FAMILY THEATER.

The bill for next week is as good, if not better, than any one that has been offered at Marion for a long time. The headliner of the bill is Francis Schwartz & Co. in her sensational playlet, "The End." She is one of the cleverest in the profession and plays a dramatic part through the entire act and carries the most elaborate costumes that has ever been worn on the local stage.

The Earle Sisters do a clever act in character changing, wooden shoe dancing and singing, and by their winning ways always make a great hit.

Bob Farnum, the musical comedian, will amuse you and give you something to laugh at.

The Beaties, the club jugglers and hoop rollers, are the finest in the business.

E. P. Rowe, tenor, will sing "Two Little Girls Loved One Little Boy."

INSPECTOR WILL VISIT THE CITY

Will Determine if More Carriers are Needed.

Notification That Marion Has Been Made a First Class Office is Expected Soon.

The official notification that the Marion postoffice has been raised from the second to the first class is expected to reach here within a few weeks. It has been more than a month since Postmaster Dickerson sent in his annual report showing that the yearly receipts of the local office have reached a point which warranted the city's being placed in the first class.

Business at the office still continues to increase, and local business men think that the increase will keep up permanently. This increase, it is said, may be taken as an excellent indication of the city's healthy and steady growth.

The postoffice department at Washington has notified Postmaster Dickerson that his request for an addition of two men to the present force of mail carriers has been received. The communication states that an inspector will be sent here in the near future and that he will investigate conditions to ascertain whether the increase in the force is needed. The postmaster feels certain that his request will be granted and that as a result, he will be able to give daily free delivery to every person living in the city.

DEATH CLAIMS AGED RESIDENT

Henry Schaffner Passes Away Friday.

LEADING BUSINESS MAN

Succumbs to the Ravages of Bright's Disease.

Deceased was One of Marion's Most Prominent and Highly Respected Citizens—Funeral Monday.

After an illness of almost six weeks Henry Schaffner, the oldest active business man in the city, died at his residence on South Main street, Friday afternoon at 3:40 o'clock.

The cause of Mr. Schaffner's death was Bright's disease. For a number of years his health had been failing and during the past few months his condition gave his relatives and friends grave concern. During the past few days, the condition of the patient was extremely critical and practically all hopes of recovery were abandoned.

Henry Schaffner was born in Effingen, Canton of Aargau, Switzerland, May 31, 1831, and had lived until the last day of this month, he would have celebrated his seventy-sixth birthday. His parents, Daniel and Barbara Schaffner, were natives of the same place. They were married in 1827 and came to America in 1848. They first located at Mansfield and a year later moved to Gallon.

The deceased came to Marion, December 17, 1849, and a year later took up the trade of cabinet maker, serving an apprenticeship of two years and later taking instruction in Indianapolis. In 1866, Mr. Schaffner became identified with the furniture business of Fies, Schaffner and Dreyer, remaining in that firm for eleven years, when he went into business for himself. In the furniture and undertaking business which he has conducted for many years, Mr. Schaffner has had his son Frank associated with him.

Mr. Schaffner was married, March 27, 1856, to Miss Margaret, daughter of Jacob and Mary Schultz, and a native of Alsace, France, who survives him. Three sons, William H., Charles D. and Frank Schaffner, two brothers Jacob, of Gallon, and Daniel, of Morganville, Kan., and one sister, Mrs. Fannie Penser, also survive. In May of 1864, Mr. Schaffner enlisted in Company B, 136th Ohio Volunteers and served four months. He is a member of the G. A. R., the Royal Arcanum and of the Salem's church.

Well known throughout the county, Mr. Schaffner's death, while not unexpected, has cast a pall of sorrow over a large circle of friends. A thorough, honorable and industrious business man, he was respected and loved by those with whom he came in contact.

The funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at two o'clock at the late residence of the deceased, Rev. Joseph Reineke, of Salem's church, will officiate. Interment will be made at Marion cemetery.

During the week of June 10 all roads will lead to Gallon, Ohio, and all Gallon to the jubilee grounds selected (Main street of the city.) The Eagles committee, under whose auspices, the grand celebration will be held, have left nothing undone to make the event the greatest and grandest Gallon has ever experienced.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM TERRIBLE DEATH

Has Little Son of Mr. H. E. Owen of Columbus.

Child Struck by Street Car and Rolled Some Distance Under Fender—Gets up Laughing

"While his aunt looked on in horror, the three-year-old twin son of Henry E. Owen, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., was drawn under the fender of a moving street car yesterday evening and the child escaped uninjured," reads an article in today's Columbus Journal. As Mr. Owen was for ten years a resident of Marion and during that period secretary of the local association, the account of the incident is of much interest to Marion people.

The article describing the thrilling accident says:

Miss Reba Owen, 1273 North High street, had been into the city with the twins, and about 5 o'clock yesterday evening was returning to her home. As she got off a North High street car at Smith place, one of the twins started to cross the street in front of an approaching car on the other track. The car was too close to stop, and Miss Owen and the other spectators turned sick with fear that the child would be mangled before her eyes. The boy was thrown under the fender and rolled for some distance, but when the car stopped he got up uninjured and laughing.

Miss Owen almost suffered nervous prostration as the result of her experience and required medical attention from Dr. Charles Ireland.

MR. W. M. JACKSON TAKES ACTIVE PART

In Financing a Large Western Enterprise

New Corporation Has Excellent Prospects of Being Largest Concerns in Nevada.

Through a Marion man, the Lincoln Nevada Mining & Milling company, a million-dollar corporation, has been financed and is now ready for operation. The last block of stock, amounting to $50,000, was just taken by John A. Scott and William Marvin, retired bankers of Findlay.

The achievement of financing this big enterprise was accomplished by William M. Jackson, the local insurance man. The stock is held by men in Marion, Columbus, Findlay and Bucyrus.

The new corporation has excellent prospects of being one of the largest of its kind in Nevada, the state which is now in the eye of the commercial world because of the wonderful strikes in gold made there during the past few years. The property of the Lincoln Nevada company is located at Pioche, Nevada.
